Roncalli Launches Gift Planning Website

In an effort to better educate donors about charitable estate planning, the ACSS and the Roncalli Foundation have launched a new website: roncalligiftplan.org. The interactive site, which is integrated in and also accessible from the school’s website, provides multiple ways for donors to learn more about different types of planned gifts – that is, charitable gifts that involve financial, tax and/or estate planning.

In addition to information about Roncalli, including a video overview of the school and the website, the site features the opportunity to sign up for an eNewsletter that includes up-to-date information on planning methods as well as relevant news and legislation. An Online Wills Planner offers a secure and private way for users to set goals, compile information, and share with their attorney in developing their estate plan (the personal data is only accessible by the donor, not the school). A Planned Gifts Calculator allows donors to estimate the impact and benefits of a variety of types of gift plans. The site also includes a variety of other types of information and resources.

The site was developed in conjunction with Crescendo, a planned giving software firm.

Mr. Murphy Retires

Tom Murphy, shown speaking at the 2013 Commencement (in the famous banana suit), retired from Roncalli this year after 41 years of service to the school system. He began teaching at Roncalli in 1972. Since then, he has taught Junior High Science, Biology, PE and Health. He has also coached both boys’ and girls’ basketball, winning the first two Conference Championships for the girls in 1983 and 1984. He has also coached Junior High football and track. He became the Athletic Director in 1985 and has been chosen the Region 1 Athletic Director in 1996-1997, 2005-2006 and again in 2012-2013. He was recently chosen as State Athletic Director of the Year.

The school is establishing a tuition scholarship in honor of Mr. Murphy. Watch your mail for information on donating or simply donate online at aberdeenroncalli.org and click the DONATE button. (To see the banana suit in full color glory, visit our Facebook page and find the May 12 graduation photos.)

All School Reunion Plans Move Forward

The alumni committee planning the 2014 All School Reunion continues to develop specific plans for the event. The dates have been set as June 13-15, 2014. General plans include:

- Friday, June 13: Lu’s Pizza Night at RHS – Doug Greiss ’73 will bring back Lu’s recipes again!
- Building tours available at multiple times during the weekend
- All Good Gifts alumni art show and auction (attention alumni artists! Please share your talents!)
- Individual class plans

Saturday, June 14:
- Golf outing and run/walks early in the day
- Cocktail hour, banquet and dance in the evening at the Dakota Event Center

Sunday, June 15:
- Mass and memorial service at RHS
- Picnic at RHS

Invitations and materials on the reunion will be mailed in the next few months, but mark your calendars now. Keep track of the reunion planning at the school website – aberdeenroncalli.org – and the reunion Facebook page – Aberdeen Roncalli All-School Reunion 2014.

Roncalli Greets New President

JoEllen Lindner was named as the President of the Aberdeen Catholic School System in April 2013. She replaces Jim Hamburge, who resigned in January. Ms. Lindner had been chosen by the ACSS School Board as interim president in late January and was offered the permanent position after a search process.

A Watertown native, Ms. Lindner comes to Roncalli most recently from Presentation College where she was Vice President for Enrollment. She previously worked at Mount Marty College, the Yankton Chamber of Commerce, and in radio news.

New Scholarship Established

The family of Phyllis Jacobson Goodman, an Aberdeen native and graduate of St. Mary’s School, has designated Roncalli as the beneficiary of a portion of Mrs. Goodman’s estate to create a substantial scholarship program for the school. When fully funded by 2014, the scholarship will include $120,000 in assets. With a goal of being fully expended within about 20 years, the fund will award several scholarships each year for a total amount of the value of two high school tuitions.

The ACSS is very grateful for this very generous gift that supports so many families who desire a Catholic education for their children. In 2012-13, about 18% of Roncalli students received some form of tuition assistance for a total value of approximately $100,000. The Phyllis Jacobson Goodman Memorial Scholarship will make a significant difference for many years to come.

Please remember Roncalli in your will.
From the President

It’s a great year to be a Cavalier! As we conclude another successful school year, there are many accomplishments and “firsts” of which we can be proud. From fine arts to athletics and academic achievements to service, Roncalli students excelled.

This was also a school year of change, both for the system and me, personally. During this year’s Catholic Schools Week Mass, it was announced that I would serve as ACSS Interim President, while the search for a permanent president commenced. I’m sure there were many people who were wondering: “Who is this person?” “What will she change?” “What does she bring to Roncalli?” If it is any consolation, I have asked myself these same questions!

In April, the interim became permanent. As I discerned what my future direction would be, I spent a great deal of time reflecting on who I am and how I can use my God-given talents to make a difference and move Roncalli forward. Making a career change at this point in my life was a leap of faith, but one I can definitely say I believe I am being called to do. Bringing over 17 years in Catholic higher education recruitment and marketing, I realize the challenges facing the Aberdeen Catholic School System are very similar. I feel very blessed to be here, and I thank you for your warm welcome and continued prayers.

We are closing in on ten years since the last strategic plan was done. In the coming months, we will be holding focus groups, reflecting on how far we have come and where we want to go in the future. Common core standards, a new theology curriculum framework, space issues, facility improvements, fund-raising, recruitment, retention, activities and strengthening alumni ties are just a few of the areas to be addressed. The Board of Education will hold a planning retreat in July to begin this process.

Two long-time teachers will be retiring this summer: Mr. Tom Murphy and Mrs. Marie Schumacher. Mrs. Brenda Mitzel and Mr. Mark Stone will assume principal leadership in the Primary and Elementary buildings, respectively. We continue to work on improvement projects at all of the building sites.

These are exciting and challenging times. Will every decision be “popular”? Of course not, but if we stay focused on our mission and base decisions upon it, we can be assured we can move no direction but forward. Like any organization, we are made up of people, each with a unique set of gifts. It is good to periodically to reflect upon how we use those gifts. The education of minds and souls is a special calling and, thanks be to God, we are part of it!

JoEllen Lindner, President

Development Corner

What a great year Roncalli has had! This includes the Cavalier Campaign Annual Fund. As you’ll see elsewhere in this issue, the Campaign has topped its previous best year and continues to thrive. The fund is an important part of the school’s finances, and your support is greatly appreciated – and needed! If you haven’t given yet, there’s still time to participate for this year. If you’ve given, thanks! And we hope to see you next year!

Also, below is a note about a way to include Roncalli in your estate. Many people already have named Roncalli as a beneficiary of an estate gift, but only some have informed us. If you have included the school in your estate plan, please let us know. It helps us in our planning, but more importantly, it allows us to acknowledge your generosity in thinking of us in this special way. This recognition can be as private as you like; we just like the opportunity of thanking you!

Thanks for your support! With you, we excel!

Patrick Gallagher, Development Officer

Junior Docent Open House

The Junior Docent program involving Roncalli’s sixth grade students is marking its 20th anniversary in 2013. To celebrate, the Dacotah Prairie Museum will host an informal open house for all former Junior Docents on July 6, from 1-4 pm. Alumni Docents can stop in to visit with program leader Sherri Rawsten, and view the many changes at DPM. More than 800 Roncalli students have been involved in the program, which won the Chamber of Commerce STAR Award and a state service award.

Planned Giving Notes

Contingent Bequests Solve Problems

Many people who support a charitable organization like Roncalli understand the benefits of making a charitable estate gift to support a cause they believe in, but they’re reluctant to put other priorities at risk. They’re concerned, for example, that a bequest to a charity could take away resources needed by their children or a parent they are caring for, and thus they choose not to consider such a bequest.

A contingent bequest may be the answer in situations like this. A contingent bequest takes effect only if some other event occurs; if the event does not occur, the bequest is not executed. For example, a Roncalli graduate wishes to leave a bequest to the school of 5 percent of her estate, but she currently has young children, and she wants to be sure that should she pass away at an early age their care would have access to the full resources of her estate. She could instruct her attorney to draft a contingent bequest that executes the gift to Roncalli from her estate only if, by the time of her death, all of her children have reached the age of 25. Her reasoning is that by that age the children would likely be self-supporting and would not need to share her entire estate. In this example, they would still receive 95 percent. Other contingencies could anticipate changes in family structure, business fortunes, or death of an heir.

Anyone considering a change to their estate plan should consult their attorney or other advisor. Everyone should have an estate plan and should review it periodically to account for life changes. For more information on including Roncalli in your estate plan, visit roncalligiftplan.org or email pat.gallagher@aberdeenroncalli.org.

REVITALIZING RONCALLI HIGH SCHOOL
The Revitalizing Roncalli High School campaign has raised about $4.3 million in pledges for the project, including a zero interest loan from the S.D. Bureau of Administration and the U.S. Dept. of Energy. Solicitation continues. The overall renovation project still aims to build additions that will house new locker rooms and move the music rooms up from the basement and renovate public restrooms next to the gym. Alumni View: Moving Back to Aberdeen

Though I grew up in Aberdeen, my husband, Robb, and I met and married in Rhode Island, and that’s where our children were born. It’s a beautiful state, and we loved it there. But every time we had a visit with my parents, watching the kids say goodbye to their grandparents broke my heart. Often, they didn’t see each other for months at a time! Now that we’re all together here in Aberdeen, Grandma and Grandpa are able to attend community theater. They don’t have to miss any more of the kids’ big moments. Family time is by far the best thing about coming back “home” to Aberdeen, but the other major factor in our decision was economics. Robb and I worked in TV news in Rhode Island, and that whole industry suffered badly during the economic downturn. There were very few opportunities available. In contrast, we knew that there were plenty of good jobs available in Aberdeen. In a short time, we each managed to find great jobs at Presentation College; I work in Student Services and he works with Athletics. The college is growing, and Aberdeen is growing – it’s an exciting time to be here, in a great place to raise children. Choosing to live in Aberdeen was a great move for our family!

Student Activities Wrap-Up: Girls BB Makes 1st State Tourney

A remarkable year in activities continued through the winter and spring seasons. After every athletics and fine arts team made it to the state level of competition in the fall, the same held true for the rest of the year. Wrapping up fall, the girls volleyball team won the NEC, made it to state for the second consecutive year, and placed sixth. The football team made it to the state semi-finals – the sixth time in nine years to reach that game.

The entire oral interp team qualified for state, three students came home with superior ratings, and the team earned the Team of Excellence award. The one-act play made it to state for the fourth year in a row, earning a superior rating for the third time in four years and individual and ensemble acting awards. The band and choir earned many superior ratings at contests. The school newspaper won the First Edition contest and the All State Newspaper Award. Joe Mehlhaff ’13, in a co-op with Central, won the state Lincoln-Douglas debate championship for the second year in a row.

Girls basketball highlighted winter. After winning its second NEC and third district title in a row, the team claimed the region crown and qualified for the state tournament for the first time in school history. They came away with third place at state. The boys team made it to their fourth consecutive state basketball tournament, also a first, and placed sixth. During the tournament, the cheerleaders earned the school’s first-ever Spirit of Six Award. The wrestling team qualified 3 of its 6 varsity members for the state meet, where Tyson Mitzel ’14 placed third.

After a wintry April, the girls golf, boys tennis, and boys and girls tennis teams finally got outside and are in state competitions at press time.

Again this year, and for several years in a row, all athletic and arts programs in SD High School Activities Association programs earned the Academic Achievement Award for earning a team average GPA of 3.0 or better.
The Cavalier Campaign Annual Fund has had a great year. At just over $87,000 to date, it has topped both the previous best and goals for this year – and there’s still time to be part of it. Thank you to everyone who has supported the Cavalier Campaign Annual Fund so far!
